presentation We are a company of professional agents, part of an international network of brokers who share certain values and objectives; Sotheby's International Realty.

We are guided by the pursuit of excellence in the service that we offer and the commitment to treat each one of our clients as if they were unique. Discretion, integrity and refinement; these three words describe our brand's personality.

Our team is made up of experienced agents who know the local market and at the same time understand the idiosyncrasies of sophisticated clients looking for distinguished properties or real estate investment opportunities.

We are experts in the service of APPRAISAL, using different methodologies to achieve a transactional value as close as possible to the market's reality.

Our agents constantly receive training and have the technological platform of a world-class company. Our referral network and access to clients all over the world differentiate us from many other local real estate companies.

Experience in assisting foreign investors

International Presence

We share the name with Sotheby's, the renowned auction house, and our partnership with this brand goes beyond names.

In the same manner that Sotheby's brings together the most refined art collectors in the world, Sotheby's Real Estate offers the most sophisticated luxury properties around the world.
